Our Programs:

Operation Assessments

The most effective way to create improvement is a comprehensive front and back of the house operations review. Our process evaluates current operating systems, standards, cost control, food quality, perceived value, return to net and HR practices. We also review your execution of known service standards, atmospheric conditions and feeling, both organic and trained.

Documentation review and assessment for the following:

- *Sales-driving, marketing & brand strategies,
- *Standardization of systems
- *Food, beverage cost reduction & vendor review
- *Productivity improvement
- *Menu evaluation placement, profitability etc.
- *Recommended systems implementation
- *Financial P&L review
- *Goal-setting & Action planning

We guarantee a detailed plan to drive revenue and increase profits to help any business.

Restaurant Startups & Due Diligences

Reliable due diligence will most often determine the success of an investment, or business decision. However, within the restaurant space most firms do not deploy veteran restaurant operators who have spent much of their career identifying opportunities and deficiencies within foodservice companies. IRHC Group highly credentialed team enables the most comprehensive restaurant due diligence available. By analyzing financial data, interviewing key executives, reviewing unit level operations and brand position/customer research, IRHC Group is able to provide you with the critical insight to make confident and accurate investment decisions.
